Bio

Always been quick to leave the house. Even when I was little I'd take any chance to run away from my folks. Mostly because of my Dad though. He'd constantly be abusive towards me and my Mum. So as soon as I could run I was out that door, never thought to shut it on the way out. Guess the habit stuck with me.

Personality

Bio

Ever since I became a politician I've struggled to keep my home life in check. There just aren't enough hours in the day to take over the world, whilst also maintaining a tidy, safe and efficient home environment. Not to mention the extra time taken up by all the trivial little in-betweens that clutter my life. Did you know that in the same time I spend manually turning on my playstation and TV each year, I could have manipulated the President into firing his most trusted staff?

Critiques:

- Uncertainty around how to upload house plan.
- Think about how the rooms might be sectioned.
- Include a master on/off button for each section.
- Add a way for the password to be set/ reset.
- Include labels for each section as the visual cues aren't enough.
- The wave graphic on the info pages are distracting away from the content.

Compliments:

- Dark palette looks professional.
- Easy to navigate.
- Quick to use.
